Liberal use has been made of the reports of Dr. Robert Bell, director of the geological survey of Canada, who spent a number of years in and around

Hudson Bay, and is an enthusiastic supporter of the project. Dr. Bell says: "It is the map of the northern hemisphere,

as shown at a glance that the shortest route between these Territories and England is through Hudson's Bay. A close examination of relative distances

shows that even the city of Winnipeg,

which is near the southern extremity of

these territories, is at least 800 miles

nearer to Liverpool by the Hudson's

Bay route than by the St. Lawrence,

while the difference in favor of the former will be increased continually

as we advance northward into the interior. Now let us consider the regular progress of two persons

traveling to Liverpool from the interior of the province of Ontario,

the one going by Winnipeg and the other by the Nelson Valley and the Churchill Harbor. In about the same time which the former requires

to reach the city of Winnipeg, the latter arrives at the sea-coast at Churchill. From Winnipeg, the traveler has to go 1,200 miles by the St. Lawrence route, or 1,000 miles if he follows the direct route

through American territory, via

Chicago. Before he reaches Montreal,

where he will still be about as far

from Liverpool as when he reached

Churchill. In other words, the route from the North West Territories

to England, via Hudson's Bay, saves

the traveler a distance of between 200 and 300 miles, and the distance between Winnipeg and

Montreal is still greater.

PRINCE ALBERT, DEC. 15, 1893.

Ben R. Lefebvre died in Menard on the 7th inst.

St. James Grant was elected to the Commons by acclamation in Ottawa on the 7th inst.

Halifax Conservatives will tender a banquet to Sir John Thompson and Sir C. A. Tupper on the 11th inst.

The Manchester ship canal was formally opened on the 7th inst. The public opening will take place on New Year's Day.

David Rice, who lost both legs on the Ottawa & Gatineau Valley Railway, has recovered $3,500 damages before a jury at Montreal, Que.

British exports decreased $500,000 and imports decreased $3,100,000 during November as compared with the corresponding month last year.

An Ottawa dispatch reports the death of a little girl who stumbled and thus caused a driving needle to enter her mouth and pierce through to the spinal column.

A requiem mass for the repose of a soul of the late Marshal Macdonald took place in Montreal yesterday under the auspices of the "La France" society.

Sir Charles Russell and Sir Richard Webster have been made Knights of the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George in recognition of their services in the Behring Sea case.

At the South Bend, Ind., National Bank on the 8th inst., while one robber engaged the only clerk on duty in conversation at a back door a second thief broke into the bank and took $15,800 from the safe. The money was not missed for several hours, and the thieves cannot be traced.

The Treasurer of Quebec declares that last year he received over $950,000 from Crown lands. This is a slight gain in Quebec, but in Ontario the conservative of that squandering our grand heritage, plundering posterity to enrich the foreigners, etc.

President Cleveland has found another "entangling foreign alliance" in the Hawaiian question. Like the pension list, it is a legacy from the former Administration.

So long as the farmers are deluded by ostensible advantage over their corn men through duties on pork and corn they will be made to bear the burden of the great tariff humbug. It is impossible that it should protect every one, and they will be among the unprotected.

It may not be apparent at first that the election of Sir James Grant in Ottawa is a great Liberal victory, but it can be demonstrated in the same way as it was shown that North Bruce and East Lambton were victor over Mr. Meredith.

The Matatoes are in flight before the army of the Chartered Company and 2,000 head of cattle have been captured. That is a far more favorable showing from the company's standpoint than if the cattle had escaped and 2,000 of the Matatoes had been captured. To drive off the men and secure their land, and the cattle is side product of the great industry.

Civic affairs are meeting along very nicely here at present. Candidates for municipal honors are keeping a background for some reason although when nomination day arrives it will be strange indeed if a sufficient number cannot be coaxed to offer their services to the ratepayers. Councillor Stewart is the only candidate for Mayor who has announced his intention to Tax Taxes and about the only prophesy we care to make just now is that if unopposed he will probably be elected by acclamation.

CITY OF CALGARY.

The citizens of Calgary will commemorate their incorporation as the premier city of the Territories by a grand banquet reception on the 20th inst. His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and family will be present and representative men from all over the country will be invited. The event promises to be a brilliant success. Calgary since its foundation has always been the Territories most enterprising town and every section will wish it increased prosperity under the star power it now enjoys as a city. Our turn will come next.

WHITEWOOD VACANCY.

The delay in issuing a writ for the election of a member to represent the important district of Whitehead in the North West Legislative Assembly is a most unusual proceeding, and is of considerable interest to every other district in the country; for it may establish a precedent, which, if acted upon in general would in many instances work disastrously to the interests of large numbers of people to continue in power at least from one general election to another, contrary to the wish of a majority of the constituents represented. For over four months this seat has been vacant and there is little doubt but that selfish reasons alone have prevented action from being held long ere this. No satisfactory reasons have been given for the unnecessary delay by those whose duty it is to attend to such matters—probably because none can be given—and it appears as if the electors of Whitehead will be obliged to take legal proceedings to stir those in authority to a sense of their duty in such an important matter. Nothing else it is believed, will move them. The delay in this case is entirely unwarrantable because the law is most explicit in the point, providing that a writ for a new election shall issue, as soon after a vacancy occurs as circumstances will permit. It is not necessary to recall the peculiar circumstances of this case, except to say that the district has practically been without a representative for upwards of a year. The late member was expelled at the last session of the Assembly in September last and had the Executive Committee been mindful of its duty, which is generally supposed to be, to act impartially and deal justly to man and man without respect to party, its members would have taken steps as was open to them or at once given instructions for the holding of a new election. It is understood however that the Executive's friends in the district are wavering somewhat in their support of its candidate, and that this is the cause of the delay, which, if true, means that the Electorate of Whitehead is to be punished because the leader of the Executive is becoming unpopular. As any law it looks very much as if the Executive Committee has chosen to quit principle, practice and justice rather than proper.

NOT TRUSTWORTHY.

Some of the disadvantages of Fame have its own peculiar bitterness, says the Youth's Companion. "Isn't it pleasant to go back with laurels to your old home?" asked some one of a celebrated artist, who replied, quizzically: "It would be, except that many of my townsmen think me a house-painter. That is a worthy trade, but still it is not my trade." Yet such a sting is not the sharpest to be imagined. A century ago there lived a famous almanac-maker named Partridge. One day, while travelling in the country, he stopped for dinner at an inn, and afterwards called for his horse, in order to continue his journey. "If you will take my advice, sir," said the hostler, "you will stay where you are, unless you want to be overtaken by a heavy rain." "No, no," was the reply. "It doesn't look in the least like rain." He proceeded on his way, and was thoroughly drenched by the shower in which he had refused to believe. Turning back, he was met by the hostler, with a broad grin. "Well, sir," said the man, "you see I was right, after all."

"Yes, you were right, and now you must tell me how you came to know about the rain." "Well, sir," replied the man, "you see we have a book at our house called 'Partridge's Almanac,' and whenever that fellow promises us a fair day, we know it will rain. Now this day is put down in the almanac as 'settled fine weather.' I looked at the prediction before I brought your horse out, and that was how I could put you on your guard."

A Queer Matrimonial Match.

Six intimate friends, three young men and three young women in Louisville, two years ago, agreed among themselves that one should not marry unless the other did. A year later, one of the young men and one of the young women became engaged to each other, but as the others were yet apparently heart free they could not marry. Six months later another couple agreed to join their lot for life, but they came trouble. The third young man was willing to marry, but the third young woman was not. The drove the other two couples nearly wild, and they frantically resorted to the most drastic means for keeping them out of happy matrimony. Finally she yielded, and the three couples were married.

Found by telegram.
"I have lots of fun in my quiet way," said an ex-telegram operator to a reporter for the New York World. "I was dining at a hotel the other night and while waiting to be served I began to tick on a plate with my knife. In a few minutes I got an answer to the same way from the other side of the room. Conversation was maintained for some time, and finally names were exchanged. I stood up and, looking across the room, saw an old side partner of mine whom I had not met for years."
